

Humber River

Every city has a heart and this city has a big heart
You can feel it beating you feel it's strong
And the rain and the mire won't quench the fire
We are people of the river so sing along

Humber river mighty water take your people to the other side

Every tiger has a roar and this tiger has a big roar
From the heart of the city to the riverside
And though a river may divide us
It sustains and provides for us
One heart one city sing along with pride

Humber river mighty water take your people to the other side

We have turned back kings
We have fished the oceans
War can't destroy us nor our enemies win
And those who mock and deride us will never divide us
We're the people of the river, and we don't give in

Humber river mighty water...
Let your spirit soar let your spirit fly
Let your voices roar into the night
